

Non-accredited High School, Home School, and GED Students

Students who attended a non-accredited high school or home school and those who received a GED may be admitted through our holistic individual review process. Interested students should submit official copies of any transcripts, GED certificates of completion, as well as any test scores such as the SAT or ACT.